August 2021
Issue # 2021-08

The last 18 or so months have been difficult at Post 7, with the virus keeping so many members and guests at bay, and the dangers and fears of the virus still hanging around.

Anthony Incantalupo is now Commander. I served longer than I ever expected to (about 6 months), having been rescued by some of the greatest Post 7 members who will help with a transition of post duties. Help them as much as possible. Give them the help and respect for the work they are doing. None of them receive any pay or any other compensation save the honor of serving. I will still be around as much as possible, but after months of long hours, I am taking lots of time off.

Anthony Incantalupo Commander. David Marsh as 1st Vice Commander, Angelo Bottone as 2nd Vice Commander, Thomas Vitelli as Finance Officer, Jimmie Dean as Sgt at Arms, & James Fischer on Adjutant Officer.

My wife, Patricia Cox, is leaving her position also. She has been the Post's Right Arm. She has done more for the post during the last 6 months than any other one person. The Post could not have survived these critical months without her there. Thank you for letting us serve the Post.

American Legion Baseball

Our baseball team, “Nationals Post 7”, has been my inspiration. The weather has not been cooperating, so a lot of games were cancelled and could not be made up in time for playoffs. Watching us win that double header on Father’s Day was the best time I have had this year. I am proud of them and the work by Team Manager & Head Coach Jordan Banks.

The list below, is of all the team members for Post 7 and Post 252, who were all from the Clearwater Area, Coach Banks coached both teams, and since all or most are from the Clearwater area, here are all of them, in alphabetic order.
